OVERALL MORNINGSTAR RATING™

OVERVIEW

The Hood River Small-Cap Growth Fund (“the Fund”) seeks long-term capital appreciation by investing in stocks with market capitalizations typically below $3 billion exhibiting strong growth characteristics and attractive valuation relative to underlying profitability. Hood River Capital Management LLC (“Hood River”) serves as the advisor to the Fund.

INVESTMENT PROCESS AND APPROACH

Hood River believes the small-cap market is inefficient, and our process is designed to profit from those inefficiencies. We construct portfolios of high quality companies that will grow earnings at least 15%, are trading at attractive valuations, and are likely to surprise other investors with better-than-expected sales and earnings.

Original fundamental research is the heart of our investment process. We talk to as many information sources as possible, including company management teams, their competitors, customers, and suppliers, as well as any other industry sources that can shed light on a business. Our three portfolio managers, each of whom has over 20 years of experience analyzing small-cap stocks, use this research, combined with our knowledge of the business and industry, to look for situations where the market doesn’t fully understand the strength of a company’s business.

Based on this research, and taking into account the valuation of a company, we construct a portfolio that has historically consisted of approximately 80 stocks that we believe offer at least 15% returns over the next year. We typically sell stocks when our original thesis changes, when price targets are hit, or when we see a superior opportunity elsewhere.

To mitigate risk individual stock positions are limited to a maximum 5% weighting and sector concentrations cannot be more than 15 percentage points different than the weighting in the Russell 2000® Growth Index.

INVESTMENT CONSIDERATIONS

All investing includes risk, including the loss of principal. The Fund invests in small-cap securities which present a greater risk of loss than large-cap securities, and in growth companies which can be more sensitive to the company's earnings and more volatile than the stock market in general. The Fund may also invest in foreign securities which are subject to risks including currency fluctuations, economic and political change and differing accounting standards. The Fund may invest in derivatives and IPOs, which are highly volatile. Additional risk information may be found in the prospectus.

All information in this report is as of December 31, 2017 unless otherwise indicated. Risk statistics are for the period 12/31/2014-12/31/2017. "Weighted Average Market Capitalization" is an average in which each company's market capitalization (current price multiplied by the number of outstanding shares) to be averaged is assigned a weight based on the percentage of holding in the Fund. "Price-to-Book Ratio" (P/B Ratio) is a ratio used to compare a stock's market value to its book value. "Price-Earnings Ratio" (P/E Ratio) is the ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its per-share earnings. "Beta" is a quantitative measure of the Fund's historical volatility relative to the overall market. "R-squared" measures how closely a portfolio's performance correlates with the performance of its benchmark index. "Standard deviation" is a statistical measure of the Fund's historical volatility. "Turnover" indicates the number of times per year than an average dollar of assets is reinvested. The benchmark is the Russell 2000® Growth Index, defined as an unmanaged, capitalization weighted index of those Russell 2000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. Index returns include dividends and/or interest income and do not reflect fees or expenses. In addition, unlike the Fund, which periodically maintains a cash position, the Russell 2000® Growth Index is fully invested. Investors cannot directly invest in an index.

Hood River Small-Cap Growth Fund (Class I) was rated against the following numbers of U.S.-domiciled small growth funds over the following time periods: 609 funds in the last three years, 544 funds in the last five years, 406 funds in the last 10 years. With respect to these Small Growth Funds, Hood River Small-Cap Growth Fund received a Morningstar Rating™ of 4 stars, 4 stars and 4 stars for the three-, five- and 10-year periods, respectively as of December 31, 2017. The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating," is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, then next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating™ for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating™ metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Ratings reflect fee waivers in effect; in their absence, ratings may have been lower. Rankings are the fund's total return-percentile rank relative to all funds that have the same category for the same time period. The highest (or most favorable) percentile rank is 1, and the lowest (or least favorable) percentile rank is 100. The top-performing fund in a category will always receive a rank of 1.

Investors should carefully consider the Fund's investment objective, risks, charges, and expenses before investing.
